Description

Provide a short description of the event and its activities.

Title of the event: Institutional presentation and final event

Description of the event: The developed agenda and the whole organization of this event was targeting to promote a deeper understanding of the EU Charter on Fundamental Rights and its practical applications in local policies. Through a variety of sessions, workshops, and discussions, participants will disseminate project results, focusing on incorporating the values and rights outlined in the Charter into local governance and community practices. The event also seeks to consolidate a sustainable network for future cooperation, enabling ongoing collaboration among stakeholders committed to these principles. An essential component is engaging with the broader public, offering an opportunity to discuss the EU Charter and raise awareness about its significance in everyday life. By fostering dialogue and building connections, the event contributes to a more integrated approach to human rights and fundamental values within the EU.

Minutes of the event :

The event spans a full day, with a variety of sessions focusing on the values and rights of the EU Charter on Fundamental Rights, as well as exploring the future of Europe through engaging workshops and debates. Here's a detailed description of the event:

The event kicks off at 9:30 with a warm welcome for all participants and a brief presentation of the day's agenda. This is followed by a 10:00 session exploring the values and rights outlined in the EU Charter on Fundamental Rights, with each partner providing a 10-minute presentation on how these values are reflected in local policies.

At 11:00, participants work together to create a MATRIX Map, illustrating the connections between the EU Charter's fundamental rights and various local policies. This interactive session allows participants to visualize the integration of EU values across different regions.

A coffee break is scheduled at 11:30, providing a chance for networking and informal discussions. The morning concludes with a roundtable discussion at 12:00, focusing on the values and rights that will shape the future of Europe. This session examines how these values might evolve and their significance in the context of fundamental rights.

After a lunch break at 13:00, the afternoon sessions resume with a workshop at 15:00, featuring a role-play exercise called "Future of Europe." This interactive session allows participants to simulate various scenarios and explore potential outcomes for Europe's future.

Following the workshop, there is a debate at 16:00 titled "Tomorrow's Europe," focusing on the upcoming European Elections. This session invites participants to discuss key issues and potential challenges facing Europe in the coming years.

The event concludes with a dinner at 19:30, provided by the "European Institute for Diplomacy & Policy," offering an opportunity to reflect on the day's discussions and enjoy a social evening with fellow participants.

In parallel, another track of the event begins at 10:00 with a project coordination session, followed by a coffee break at 11:00. This track includes interviews at 11:30 and a lunch break at 12:30. The afternoon features a sightseeing tour of the city at 14:00 and concludes with the signing of a Memorandum of Understanding at 16:00, focusing on the values and rights of the EU Charter on Fundamental Rights. This day ends with the same dinner at 19:30.

Overall, this event provides a comprehensive exploration of the EU Charter's values and rights, engaging participants through discussions, interactive sessions, and social activities, while also offering a memorable evening to cap off the day.
